

1 Graph c represents the situation best. A person would enter the Ferris wheel near the ground at  $t = 0$ . Then he or she would climb to a maximum height before returning to the initial ground position. This process would then repeat until the ride ended.